If You have not requested for repair or replacement, or could not request it, then You may apply for a proportionate discount, You may do repairs/have repairs yourself at the expense of the Seller or - as a last resort - withdraw from the contract.

This deadline shall apply with prejudice. The legal provisions on exercising warranty rights shall be duly applied concerning the enforcement of commercial guarantee rights. The guarantee period shall be one year. Such a time limit shall apply with prejudice. The guarantee period shall commence on the day when the consumer goods are delivered for the consumer or put in working order by the enterprise or its agent. In relation to guaranteeing claims beyond one year, You should contact the manufacturer.

The Seller shall be exempted from his obligation of guarantee if he can prove that the defect occurred after the performance.
